Introduction

Mutual Funds are for everyone. Around the world, millions of investors invest in mutual funds because of their safety, ease of investing and the many advantages they offer. As you read on, you will get a flavour of what mutual funds are and how they can help you achieve your financial goals. But before that, here are some basics of investing.

Investments and You

Investing is never an easy process. However, a sound understanding of some basic concepts makes the process of investment decision-making much easier and the experience much more enjoyable. The following steps can help you get started on your path to becoming a successful investor:

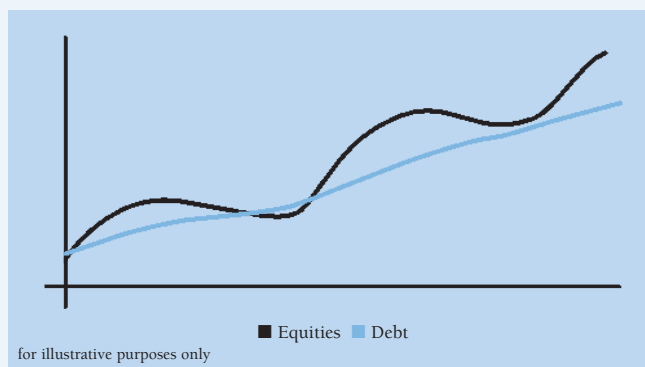

1. Identify your financial needs and goals

The first step is to get a clear understanding of your own financial needs and goals. Ask yourself the question - When do I need money and for what purpose? List down your financial goals and when they will materialise (daughter's higher education after 6 years, purchase of a house after 10 years), and how much money you will need for the same. The answer will help you arrive at the time frame for your investment - short term, medium term or long term.

Financial Goals	Amount Required (At today's prices)	Years' to achieve your goal	Investment horizon
Retirement	Rs.25 lakhs	20 years	Long Term
Daughter's higher education	Rs.2 lakhs	6 years	Long Term
Buying a car	Rs. 4 lakhs	2 years	Medium Term
Son's computer course	Rs. 0.50 lakhs	6 months	Short Term

2. Understand your tolerance to risk

Before making an investment decision, it is important to ascertain your feelings about risk. Will you be comfortable with fluctuations in the value of your investment? Or would you prefer to settle for lower returns, without ups and downs?

3. Estimate your required rate of return

Your required rate of return depends on your financial goals and the time you have to achieve them, as can be seen from the illustration below:

If your retirement goal at 58 years is Rs.20 lakhs and your monthly savings is Rs.5000, your required rate of return depending on your current age would be:

Present Age	Returns
43 years	9.5%
48 years	21.2%

As you can see, the later you start, the higher will be your required rate of return... in other words, as your investment horizon reduces, for the same level of savings, you may need to take on a higher risk. Alternatively, if you were not willing to take a higher risk, you would have to save a higher amount every month - Rs. 9800, almost twice the original savings required to achieve your target accumulation.

Once you are comfortable with these basics, the next step is to understand your investment choices, and draw up an investment plan relevant to your requirements. While the following section provides you more details on these choices, we would urge you to consult your investment advisor to understand these better before investing.

Mutual Funds and You

What is a mutual fund?

A mutual fund pools the money of people with similar investment goals. The money in turn is invested in various securities depending on the objectives of the mutual fund scheme, and the profits (or loss) are shared among investors in proportion to their investments.

Mutual fund schemes are usually open end (perpetually open for investments and redemptions) or closed end (with a fixed term). A mutual fund scheme issues units that are normally priced at Rs.10 during the initial offer. Thus, the number of units you own as against the total number of units issued by the mutual fund scheme determines your share in the profits or loss of a scheme.

In the case of open end schemes, units can be purchased from or sold back to the fund at a Net Asset Value (NAV) based price on all business days.

The NAV is the actual value of a unit of the fund on a given day. Thus, when you invest in a mutual fund scheme, you normally get an account statement mentioning the number of units that have been allotted to you and the NAV based price at which the units have been allotted. The account statement is similar to your bank passbook... when you buy more units or redeem your units in part or full, you get an updated account statement, reflecting your transaction.

Where do mutual funds invest?

Broadly, mutual funds invest basically in three types of asset classes:

Stocks: Stocks represent ownership or equity in a company, popularly known as shares

Bonds: These represent debt from companies, financial institutions or government agencies.

Money market instruments: These include short-term debt instruments such as treasury bills, certificate of deposits and inter-bank call money.

What are the types of mutual funds?

Mutual funds can be classified based on their objectives as:

Sector Equity Schemes: These schemes invest in shares of companies in a specific sector.

Diversified Equity Schemes: These schemes invest in shares of companies across different sectors of the economy.

Hybrid Schemes: These schemes invest in a mix of shares and fixed income instruments.

Income Schemes: These schemes invest in fixed income instruments such as bonds issued by corporates and financial institutions, and government securities.

Money Market Schemes: These schemes invest in short term instruments such as certificate of deposits, treasury bills and short term bonds.

Growth Schemes: Capital Growth
Risk: Medium to High
Recommended Investment Horizon:
5 years and above

Hybrid Schemes: Growth and Income
Risk: Medium to High
Recommended Investment Horizon:
3 years to 5 years

Income Schemes: Income
Risk: Low to Medium
Recommended Investment Horizon:
1 year to 3 years

Liquid / Money Market Schemes:
Capital Preservation
Risk: Low
Recommended Investment Horizon:
Upto 1 year

What are the benefits of investing in mutual funds?

As opposed to investing directly in the three asset classes, accessing them through a mutual fund has several advantages:

Professional Management:

Your money is managed by professionals who have the experience and resources to thoroughly analyse the economy and financial markets, and spot good opportunities.

Diversification:

With smaller amounts, you can achieve a higher degree of diversification and reduce your risk.

Liquidity and Convenience:

Investing and getting back your money is easy. Also, there is very little paper work, and it is very easy to track and monitor your investments.

Tax Benefits:

Some mutual fund schemes offer you tax benefits under Section 80C. In addition, your returns from mutual funds (dividends and capital appreciation) are also eligible for favourable tax treatment.

To sum up, the key to investment success is determining your needs and selecting and allocating your savings across appropriate asset classes that can help you achieve them. Mutual funds offer you a low cost, convenient and professional investment vehicle to access different asset classes.

TAX IMPLICATIONS TO UNITHOLDERS

The following summary outlines the key tax implications applicable to unit holders based on the relevant provisions under the Income-tax Act, 1961 ('Act'), the Wealth-tax Act, 1957 and the Finance Act 2005 (collectively called 'the relevant provisions').

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION IS PROVIDED FOR GENERAL INFORMATION ONLY. HOWEVER, IN VIEW OF THE INDIVIDUAL NATURE OF THE IMPLICATIONS, EACH INVESTOR IS ADVISED TO CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER OWN TAX ADVISORS/AUTHORISED DEALERS WITH RESPECT TO THE SPECIFIC TAX AND OTHER IMPLICATIONS ARISING OUT OF HIS OR HER PARTICIPATION IN THE SCHEMES.

UNDER THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961

The following summary outlines the key tax implications applicable to unit holders based on the relevant provisions under the Act subsequent to the amendments enacted by the Finance Act, 2005.

The tax implications of the following income received by the investors are discussed below:

- i) Income on units (other than sale/redemption);
- ii) Income on sale/redemption of the units.

Taxability of income on units (other than sale):

The income received by an investor (other than income on sale/redemption) in respect of units of a mutual fund specified under Section 10(23D) of the Act, is exempt under the Act.

As the income is exempt from tax, no tax is withheld by the Mutual Fund upon distribution of such income.

Taxability of income on sale/redemption of units:

The taxability of the income on sale/redemption of units and the rates at which such income is taxed is discussed below:

If the units are held as stock-in-trade:

If the units are held by an investor as stock-in-trade of a business, the said income will be taxed at the rates at which the normal income of that investor is taxed. The rates applicable to different investors are discussed at length in Note 1.

On sale of the units of an equity oriented fund (as defined below) on a recognized stock exchange or to the Mutual Fund, the investor will also be charged with securities transaction tax ('STT') as per the rates specified in para on STT, provided the transaction is also considered as a taxable securities transaction. In other cases, STT is not levied.

Further, the investor is not allowed any deduction of STT paid for the purposes of computing his business income. However, a rebate under section 88E of the Act is available in respect of STT paid. The rebate is available in form of a deduction of the STT paid from the tax payable on the income from the taxable securities transaction. The tax payable on the income from taxable securities transaction is computed by applying the average rate of income-tax on the total income. The rebate in respect of STT paid cannot, however, exceed the tax payable. Also, this rebate can be claimed by an investor only if appropriate evidences are furnished in Form No. 10DB along with the Return of Income.

Note: "Equity oriented fund" is defined as -

- a fund where the investible funds are invested by way of equity shares in domestic companies to the extent of more than fifty percent of the total proceeds of such fund; and
- which has been set up under a scheme of a Mutual Fund specified in section 10 (23D) of the Act

"Taxable securities transaction" means a transaction of -

- purchase or sale of an equity share in a company or a derivative or a unit of an equity oriented fund, entered into in a recognised stock exchange; or
- sale of an equity oriented fund to the Mutual Fund

If the units are held as investments

If the units are held as investments, the tax rates applicable will depend on whether the gain on sale of units is classified as a short term capital gain or a long term capital gain. As per section 2(42A) of the Act, units of the scheme held as a capital asset, for a period of more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer, will be treated as long-term capital assets for the computation of capital gains; in all other cases, they would be treated as short-term capital assets.

The tax rates applicable on short term or long term capital gains arising on transfer of units of an equity oriented fund are stated in the following table:

Nature of income	Tax rate ⁵
Short-term capital gains on sale either to the Mutual Fund or on a recognized stock exchange	Capital gains tax payable at 10 percent* [applicable to all investors including Foreign Institutional Investors (FII)]
Long- term capital gains on sale either to the Mutual Fund or on a recognized stock exchange	No capital gains tax payable by any investor.

*plus surcharge and education cess as may be applicable (refer Note 2). In case of non-resident investors, the above rates would be subject to applicable treaty relief.
⁵Additionally, STT would be payable at the rates specified in para on STT

The tax rates applicable on short term or long term capital gain arising on transfer of units of a scheme not dealt with above are stated in the following table:

Nature of income	Tax rate
Short-term capital gains	In case of FIIs, 30 percent* For others, taxed at normal tax rates (as explained in Note 1).
Long-term capital gains	In case of FIIs, 10 percent* (without indexation) In case of others, 20 percent* (with indexation#) or, 10 percent* (without indexation), whichever less.

* plus surcharge and education cess as may be applicable (refer Note 2). In case of non-resident investors, the above rates would be subject to applicable treaty relief. # no indexation benefit for non-resident investors if investment made is in foreign currency.

The withholding tax implication (i.e. TDS) in respect of the capital gains explained above is discussed below:

- (a) Resident Investors: No tax is required to be deducted at source from capital gains arising to resident investors at the time of repurchase or redemption of the units.

(b) Non-Resident Investors:

As per the provisions of Act [Section 195], tax is required to be deducted at source from the sale proceeds or redemption proceeds paid to non-resident investors. This withholding is in addition to the STT payable, if any, by the investor. The rates are:

- Foreign Institutional Investors: No tax has to be deducted on redemption/sale proceeds [Section 196D(2)].
- Non-Resident Indian ('NRI') / Person of Indian Origin ('PIO')*: Tax, on short term capital gains arising out of redemption of units is deducted at the rate of 10% (plus surcharge) for an equity oriented fund and at 30% (plus surcharge) for a non equity oriented fund. Tax, on long term capital gains is deducted at the rate of 20% (plus surcharge). However, in case of long term capital gains on redemption of units of an equity oriented fund, no tax would be deducted. For administrative purpose the Fund will deduct 10 percent surcharge.
- Non-Resident Corporates*: Tax is deducted at the rate of 40 percent on short term capital gains and 20 percent on long-term capital gains. The said rates at which capital gains are charged to tax would be further increased by the applicable surcharge and education cess stated in Note 2 below. No tax would, however, be deducted in case of long term capital gains on redemption of units of an equity oriented fund.

All the above non-resident investors may also claim the tax treaty benefits available, if any. For details of applicability and eligibility of such benefits, the investors are requested to consult their tax advisors.

Provisions regarding Dividend income and Bonus

According to the provisions of Section 94(7) of the Act, losses arising from the sale/redemption of units purchased within 3 months prior to the record date (for entitlement of dividends) and sold within 9 months after such date, is disallowed to the extent of income on such units (other than on sale/redemption) claimed as tax exempt.

According to the provisions of Section 94(8) of the Act, if an investor purchases units within 3 months before the record date (for entitlement of bonus) and sells/redeems the units within 9 months after that date, and by virtue of holding the original units, he becomes entitled to bonus units, then the loss arising on transfer of original units shall be ignored for the purpose of computing his income chargeable to tax. In fact, the loss so ignored will be treated as cost of acquisition of such bonus units.

Note 1:

The individuals (including NRIs/PIOs) and HUFs, are proposed to be taxed in respect of their total income at the following rates:

Slab	Tax rate *
Total income upto Rs.1,00,000 [#]	Nil
